Husband

The quiet moment we shared after the ceremony, when everything felt real and we finally had a second to take it all in together.

COUPLES' FAVORITE THING ABOUT THE WEDDING

Walking down the aisle and seeing him waiting for me was the most emotional part of the day. It felt like time slowed down and nothing else mattered except the moment we were about to share. Being surrounded by so much love made the day feel incredibly meaningful and reminded me how lucky we are to begin this next chapter together.
